Section 1

Who we are

Behold Again International Foundation (BAIF) is a Ugandan, not-for-profit organisation founded to break the cycle of poverty, exclusion and early pregnancy that holds back girls and women in rural settlements and low-income communities. Our name is our promise: that every girl and woman who has been overlooked can be seen again, valued again and given the means to start again.

We deliver holistic, community-based programmes that link protection and psychosocial care with education, health, vocational skills, small enterprise and climate-smart agriculture, working hand in hand with families, local leaders and local government.

Vision

A society where every unprivileged child, girl and woman lives with dignity, safety and sustainable opportunity.

Mission

To empower children, girls and vulnerable women through holistic programmes in education, health, protection, livelihood development and psychosocial support.

Core values

Dignity
Every person is treated with respect, whatever her past.

Child protection
The safety and best interests of the child come first.

Gender equality
Girls and women share equally in rights and opportunity.

Transparency
Open records, audited accounts and honest reporting.

Accountability
To communities, partners and the Government of Uganda.

Human rights
Rights-based programming in line with national law.

Section 2

The problem we address

Poverty affects a large share of Uganda's population, and its weight falls hardest on young people and vulnerable families. For girls, poverty, early pregnancy and school dropout reinforce one another. A girl who leaves school early is far more likely to become pregnant as a teenager, and a teenage mother is far less likely to return to school or find decent work. The national evidence below frames our priorities.

24%

of adolescent girls aged 15–19 have begun childbearing, almost unchanged from 25% in 2016.

Uganda Bureau of Statistics, Uganda Demographic and Health Survey 2022

22.3%

of school dropouts among girls aged 14–18 are attributed to teenage pregnancy.

Government of Uganda (2022), cited in UN Women Policy Brief No. 188 (January 2025)

27.1%

teenage pregnancy rate among less-educated girls, against 7.5% among girls educated beyond secondary level.

UN Women Policy Brief No. 188, analysis of UDHS 2022

368

maternal deaths per 100,000 among adolescent mothers aged 15–19 in 2022, reflecting poor access to care and high pregnancy risk.

UBOS (2023), cited in UN Women Policy Brief No. 188

39%

of households were in the subsistence economy when Government introduced the Parish Development Model to bring them into the money economy.

Office of the Prime Minister; Parish Development Model

Shs 592bn

could be saved each year if teenage pregnancy fell from 24% to 10%, alongside over Shs 53bn in education costs.

National Population Council, State of Uganda Population Report 2023

Our response: reach girls before they drop out, bring teenage mothers back to learning, protect those at risk, and give women the skills, assets and markets to support their families. Education, safety and income together, rather than any one alone.

Programme areas

BAIF's fifteen constitutional objectives are organised into six programme areas and one cross-cutting area.

Programme area	Objectives	Key interventions
1. Education and re-integration	Obj. 3	School re-entry for teenage mothers; fees and scholastic materials; mentorship; family and community re-integration of vulnerable children and girls.
2. Protection and psychosocial care	Obj. 2, 8	Safe spaces and temporary shelter; counselling and psychosocial support; referral to police, probation and health services; anti-drug abuse campaign for street girls and young mothers.
3. Health, hygiene and SRHR	Obj. 1, 4, 7	Behaviour change on health, hygiene and sanitation; sexual and reproductive health and rights awareness; menstrual hygiene; maternal health linkages for young mothers.
4. Vocational skills and enterprise	Obj. 6, 12	Training and starter equipment in tailoring, catering, hairdressing, handloom, crafts, welding and metal fabrication, carpentry and concrete works; business skills; women-owned income-generating projects.
5. Agriculture and agro-processing	Obj. 5, 15	Livestock (cattle, goats, sheep, pigs, rabbits, poultry); food and cash crops; processing of livestock and crop products for nutrition, household income and export markets.
6. Environment and climate action	Obj. 9	Awareness on environmental protection, natural resource management, and climate change adaptation and mitigation; tree planting; climate-smart farming.
Cross-cutting: rights, voice and governance	Obj. 4, 10, 11, 13, 14	Advocacy on children's and women's rights; public dialogue on participation and good governance; leadership and ethics training for women and girl leaders; partnerships with government, agencies and donors; engagement of technical experts.

Our delivery approach

Identify
Reach girls and women through local leaders, schools, health centres and volunteers.

2
Protect
Safety, shelter where needed and psychosocial support, with statutory referrals.

3
Restore
Return to school or a training pathway; support her health and her child's.

4
Equip
Vocational, business and farming skills, with starter kits, livestock or tools.

5
Sustain
Savings and enterprise groups linked to markets and Government programmes.
